

Deliver instant value to employees with GenAI

Search and take action with Moveworks Copilot

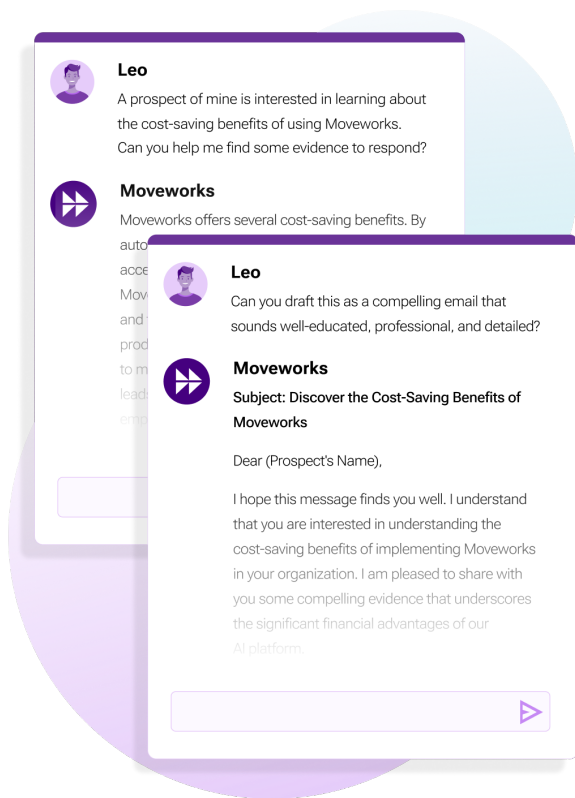

The problem

Generative AI copilots that are specific to an ecosystem or business application are everywhere. And while they can boost productivity within that ecosystem or app, they don't eliminate the friction caused by jumping between different systems (each with unique interfaces) dozens of times a day.

The Moveworks solution

The Moveworks Copilot is a secure, central place employees can go for help to search and take action across their available applications. It fuses the power of generative AI and your unique business context to create the world's most comprehensive, effective, and trustworthy enterprise copilot.

Features and functionalities

Quick summaries

Instantly synthesize information from different sources into actionable summaries

Trustworthy citations

Instill answer confidence with cited and easily verifiable sources

Dynamic follow-up questions

Reach the right answers by responding to the copilot's asks for clarity or context

Complex requests

Ask the copilot multiple questions or request it to take multiple actions at once without issue

Search functionality

Source information from your internal knowledge bases, files, and external sources of your choice

Frictionless actions

Work smarter by using copilot to take wide-ranging actions on your behalf

Some of our customers

Deliver instant value to employees with GenAI

Search and take action with Moveworks Copilot

Who is Moveworks for?

Heads of IT

Heads of Admin

Service Agents

Service Owners

CIO/SVP IT

Moveworks Copilot boosts employee productivity

Boost employee productivity

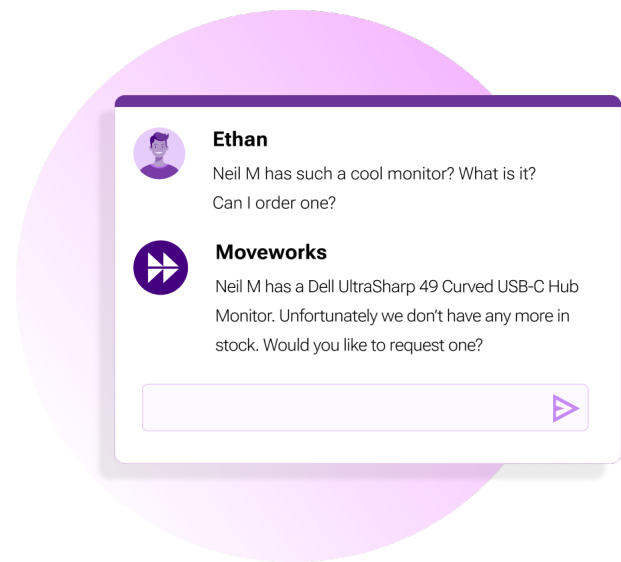

The more employees integrate the copilot into their daily work, the greater the boost in productivity realized. Using the copilot helps employees get what they need instantly, giving them time back to focus on more impactful, strategic work.

Unlock agent bandwidth

Giving employees the ability to self-serve using the Copilot doesn't just help your employees, it also benefits your support agents. Deflecting more tickets means agents spend less time on mundane requests and more time on complex cases or high-impact projects that move the needle for the company.

Increase tech stack ROI

On average, 33% of a business' tech spend is underutilized or wasted every year. The Copilot helps employees extract more value out of your existing systems and applications by making them easier to interact with through natural language. No more complicated, disjointed GUIs – language is the new UI.

80%+

Automated resolution of L1 support tickets

$11.5m

Average 3-year ROI with Moveworks, according to Forrester

7 sec

Average time it takes Nutanix to fully resolve support issues